CLASS-ACTION CROSS-COMPLAINT

Cross-Complainant Kiara Caldwell, on behalf of herself and all persons similarly situated, brings this action against Cross-Defendant BBBB Bonding Corporation dba Bad Boys Bail Bonds ("Bad Boys"), alleging as follows:

INTRODUCTION

- 1. Ms. Caldwell brings this class action to put an end to Bad Boys' systemic and pervasive violations of California's consumer and fair competition laws.
- 2. Bad Boys' business model rests in large part on its noncompliance with California law. Bad Boys targets the family and friends of recent arrestees; it deceives them as to Bad Boys' role in the bail bond process; and it convinces them to cosign broad, legally unenforceable credit bail agreements. In the process, Bad Boys also fails to discharge its legally mandated duties as a commercial bail bond company.
- 3. Bad Boys uses its unenforceable credit bail agreements to make illegitimate, surprise demands for large sums of money, including punitive fees for nonpayment. Bad Boys has extracted huge sums of money typically from those least able to afford it in recent years.
- 4. In light of Bad Boys' improper and unlawful conduct, Ms. Caldwell is entitled to restitution, preliminary and permanent injunctive relief, declaratory relief, and other relief as requested herein on her own behalf, on behalf of those similarly situated, and on behalf of the California public.

THE PARTIES

- 5. Cross-Complainant Kiara Caldwell is a privately employed security guard residing in Sacramento County.
- 6. Cross-Defendant Bad Boys is and was, at all times mentioned in this cross-complaint, a California corporation that provides bail bonds and bail bond financing to consumers across California.
- 7. Bad Boys has its primary place of business at 595 Park Avenue, Suite 200, San Jose, California 95110. Bad Boys has its Alameda County storefront at 478 7th Street, Oakland, California 94607. In addition to its San Jose corporate headquarters and Oakland storefront, Bad Boys has storefronts in San Jose, Modesto, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, and San Diego.

- 8. The true names and capacities of Cross-Defendants Roes 1 through 10 are unknown. Roes 1 through 10 are therefore sued by fictitious names. Ms. Caldwell will seek leave to amend this cross-complaint to allege true names and capacities of the fictitiously named Cross-Defendants when their identities have been ascertained. On information and belief, the fictitiously named Cross-Defendants or their agents are responsible, at least in part, for the events and happenings alleged in this cross-complaint, and they proximately caused Ms. Caldwell's damages.
- 9. On information and belief, each Cross-Defendant was at all times an agent of each other Cross-Defendant and was acting within the course and scope of its authority or agency relationship. On information and belief, each Cross-Defendant had knowledge of, authorized, ratified, or participated in the conduct of each other Cross-Defendant.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

- 10. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Bad Boys because it is a California corporation and has submitted itself to the jurisdiction of this Court by filing the underlying Complaint.
- 11. Venue is proper in Alameda County because the underlying Complaint was filed in Alameda County.
- 12. Venue is further proper in Alameda County because this action arises from an extension of consumer credit reflected in a purported contract signed in Alameda County. See Code Civ. Proc. § 395.
- 13. Venue is further proper in Alameda County because this action arises from an extension of consumer credit reflected in a purported contract signed by Ms. Caldwell while she was residing in Alameda County. See Code Civ. Proc. § 395.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

- I. In California, cash bail is typically paid using a consumer credit loan backed by a cosigner.
- 14. In California, after a person is arrested and booked for allegedly committing a criminal offense, there are two options: the arrestee may be kept in jail to await further legal proceedings, or the arrestee may be released with orders to return at a later date. In the latter scenario, the arrestee's release is typically accompanied by certain conditions. These conditions are known as "bail."
- 15. Under California's current cash-bail system, the most significant conditions of an arrestee's release are financial. An arrestee will not be released unless they "post" bail in the form of a large cash bail bond. This cash bail bond is forfeited if the arrestee does not return to court as required, but is otherwise refundable.
 - 16. The median cash bail in California is roughly $50,000.
- 17. Many, if not most, Californians do not have ready access to the large sums of cash necessary for posting cash bail bonds on their own. Nor do their family and friends. According to one recent survey, even before the coronavirus pandemic, nearly one in five Bay Area residents had less than $400 in savings, and nearly a third of Bay Area residents regularly ran out of money before the end of the month. As a result of the high cost of bail, most people resort to commercial bail bond companies.
- 18. Commercial bail bond companies post a surety bail bond on the arrestee's behalf in exchange for a "premium" payment. This premium is typically set at 10% of the cash bail amount, and is not refundable. A premium will not be refunded even if a person returns to court as required, has charges dropped, or is found innocent. As a result, one notable effect of the cash bail system is to extract a nonrefundable premium specifically from individuals who are strapped for cash, using continued incarceration as leverage.
- 19. Given the high cost of cash bail, many Californians also lack ready access to the cash necessary to pay a 10% premium for a bail bond. As a result, commercial bail bond companies will often provide, as an additional service, bail bond premium financing. This arrangement is sometimes known as "credit bail," as it amounts to purchasing a bail bond through an ordinary consumer credit transaction.

- 20. When extending credit bail, commercial bail bond companies generally require at least one cosigner to assume responsibility for the financed bail bond premium in addition to the arrestee.
- 21. Commercial bail bond companies offload their surety risk by requiring the arrestee and cosigner to assume financial responsibility for the potential costs to the bail bond company including the amount of any forfeited cash bail, the costs of ensuring that the arrestee appears in court, and other fees and expenses incurred.
- 22. The result of the typical credit bail arrangement is that an arrestee and cosigner bear the same financial risk they would bear if they paid bail fully in cash; but they are charged a nonrefundable fee specifically for lacking the resources to do so. Commercial bail bond companies bear little if any risk for the limited services they provide, yet they reap considerable financial rewards from those least able to pay, under purported contracts signed at particularly difficult and vulnerable moments for arrestees and their family members and friends who serve as cosigners.
 - II. Bad Boys, like many commercial bail bond companies, offers its own consumer credit loans to arrestees and cosigners.
- 23. On information and belief, Bad Boys is a typical commercial bail bond company, in that it follows the practices described in the foregoing paragraphs. Bad Boys generally sets 10% bail bond premiums for its surety bail bonds. Bad Boys offers bail bond premiums on credit, to be repaid in lengthy installments.
- 24. As a rule, Bad Boys also requires cosigners for its bail bond agreements, and it requires cosigners to assume responsibility for financed bail bond premiums.
- 25. Bad Boys requires arrestees and cosigners seeking bail loans to sign three documents: an Unpaid Premium Agreement, an Indemnity Agreement, and an Indemnitor/Guarantor Checklist (collectively, the "Credit Bail Agreements").

- 26. For a cosigner, one of the primary effects of the Credit Bail Agreements, notwithstanding disputes over their validity or enforceability, is to make the cosigner fully responsible for repayment of the consumer loan through which the bail bond premium is financed. Bad Boys provides no notice to cosigners, before they cosign the Credit Bail Agreements, that the cosigners are fully responsible for the repayment of the loan.
- 27. On information and belief, the form and substance of Bad Boys' Credit Bail Agreements has not changed materially since October 30, 2015.

III. Bad Boys calls Ms. Caldwell to ask her to bail out a close friend.

- 28. On or about the late afternoon of June 21, 2018, Ms. Caldwell received a phone call from a man who identified himself as a Bad Boys representative at the company's Oakland storefront. The representative told Ms. Caldwell that her friend Dareauna Chambers needed to be bailed out of jail for a recent arrest.
- 29. On information and belief, Ms. Chambers was arrested earlier in the day on June 21, 2018 for a shoplifting incident at an East Bay clothing store.
- 30. The Bad Boys representative initially told Ms. Caldwell that Ms. Chambers could be bailed out for $1000. When Ms. Caldwell stated that she didn't have immediate access to $1000, the representative told her to come to Bad Boys' Oakland location to "sign some paperwork" that would allow Ms. Chambers to be released. This entire conversation with the Bad Boys representative lasted only a few minutes.
- 31. Ms. Caldwell agreed to go to the Bad Boys location in Oakland. At the time, Ms. Caldwell was working as a security guard in Alameda, attending classes at Chabot College, and operating on a limited personal budget. However, Ms. Caldwell and Ms. Chambers had been close friends for many years, and Ms. Caldwell was concerned about her friend's wellbeing and the possibility that Ms. Chambers would be unable to post bail and would be forced to remain in jail without help. Ms. Caldwell knew that Ms. Chambers had few family members or friends to rely on.

- IV. Bad Boys moves swiftly to procure cash and signatures, without regard for the illegality of its Credit Bail Agreements.
- 32. After the phone call from Bad Boys, Ms. Caldwell went directly to the company's Oakland storefront, where she met in person with the Bad Boys representative she had spoken to on the phone. The Bad Boys representative told Ms. Caldwell that Ms. Chambers could be released for $500 in cash if Ms. Caldwell signed certain paperwork.
- 33. The Bad Boys representative told Ms. Caldwell that the effect of Bad Boys' paperwork was to require Ms. Chambers to pay the amount of her financed bail bond either with lower monthly installments if Ms. Chambers came to the office with $500 in cash after her release, or with higher monthly installments if she didn't. The representative explained to Ms. Caldwell that Ms. Chambers would be expected to come to the Oakland storefront after her release to sign paperwork to this effect.
- 34. At no point did the Bad Boys representative explain to Ms. Caldwell that Ms. Caldwell would be obligated on the consumer credit agreement for the full bail bond premium or for any other costs or expenses.
- 35. At no point did the Bad Boys representative explain to Ms. Caldwell that the money Ms. Caldwell put down, or any other sums received in connection with bail for Ms. Chambers, would not be refunded.
- 36. Ms. Caldwell's entire interaction with Bad Boys was rushed and pressured.

 Ms. Caldwell was simply told where to sign or initial, with the Bad Boys representative offering no explanation of the particular terms of the agreements and, worse, failing to describe the scope of Ms. Caldwell's liability under the purported agreements. On information and belief, the Bad Boys representative rushed through the cosigning process specifically so as to prevent Ms. Caldwell from fully understanding the process and to prevent questioning and clarification.
- 37. Bad Boys ultimately had Ms. Caldwell sign three documents its Credit Bail Agreements in quick succession. The terms of the Credit Bail Agreements are internally inconsistent and, in some cases, unintelligible. However, as relevant here, the Credit Bail Agreements and their key features are as follows:

- a. The first Credit Bail Agreement was an Unpaid Premium Agreement, a signed copy of which is attached as Exhibit A. This agreement purports to set a balance due of $4,500, with installment payments over the following 10 to 18 months.
- b. The second Credit Bail Agreement was an Indemnity Agreement, a signed copy of which is attached as Exhibit B. This agreement purports to make
 Ms. Caldwell liable for the bail bond premium, to be renewed annually.
- c. The third Credit Bail Agreement was an Indemnitor/Guarantor Checklist, a signed copy of which is attached as Exhibit C. This document purports to restate the terms of the Indemnity Agreement.
- 38. To the extent they qualify as contracts, each of the Credit Bail Agreements is a contract of adhesion.
- 39. Bad Boys also had Ms. Caldwell list her current employer and assets, as well as the names and contact information of three references. One of the references for whom Ms. Caldwell provided contact information was her mother.
- 40. Ms. Caldwell's entire visit to Bad Boys lasted no more than 15 minutes. Much of that time consisted of Ms. Caldwell going to an ATM to withdraw cash, as the Bad Boys representative refused to accept Ms. Caldwell's $500 payment via debit card.
- 41. Bad Boys did not provide Ms. Caldwell with anything in writing other than copies of the Credit Bail Agreements.
- 42. Had Bad Boys explained that Ms. Caldwell's obligation as a cosigner included a financial obligation for the full financed bail bond premium of $4,500, Ms. Caldwell would not have agreed to cosign or provide an initial payment.
- 43. Had Bad Boys fully explained the consequences of cosigning the Credit Bail Agreements, including the fact that the bail bond premium and any installments or other amounts paid were nonrefundable, Ms. Caldwell would not have agreed to cosign or provide an initial payment.

44. On information and belief, Ms. Chambers was released from jail on the evening of June 21, 2018, and later signed the Unpaid Premium Agreement, Indemnity Agreement, and Guarantor/Indemnitor Checklist.

V. Bad Boys violates California consumer law.

- 45. California recognizes that cosigners to consumer credit agreements are often confused, misled, or actively deceived as to the nature and scope of their obligations as cosigners. As a result, California has enacted a rigorous and well-defined set of consumer protection rules specific to cosigners, the centerpiece of which is a thorough notice provision.
- 46. Specifically, under Civil Code section 1799.91, notice must be provided to any cosigner on a consumer credit contract who does not in fact receive any of the money, property, or services that are the subject matter of the consumer credit contract. Notice must be provided either immediately above the space reserved for the cosigner's signature or on a separate sheet of paper.
- 47. Civil Code section 1799.91 mandates specific language for the Notice to Cosigner, which is required to be provided in at least 10-point font in English and Spanish. The English text must read:

You are being asked to guarantee this debt. Think carefully before you do. If the borrower doesn't pay the debt, you will have to. Be sure you can afford to pay if you have to, and that you want to accept this responsibility.

You may have to pay up to the full amount of the debt if the borrower does not pay. You may also have to pay late fees or collection costs, which increase this amount.

The creditor can collect this debt from you without first trying to collect from the borrower. The creditor can use the same collection methods against you that can be used against the borrower, such as suing you, garnishing your wages, etc. If this debt is ever in default, that fact may become a part of your credit record.

This notice is not the contract that makes you liable for the debt.

48. Under Civil Code section 1799.95, a creditor who fails to provide a compliant notice is expressly prohibited from bringing any action to enforce the contract.

- 49. Bad Boys was required to provide a Notice to Cosigner to Ms. Caldwell because its Credit Bail Agreements qualify, individually and collectively, as "consumer credit contracts" under Civil Code section 1799.90(a).
- 50. A "consumer credit contract" is defined under Civil Code section 1799.90(a) as an obligation to pay money on a deferred payment basis, where the money, property, services, or other consideration which is the subject matter of the contract is primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, and where at least one of six qualifying conditions applies.
- 51. The Credit Bail Agreements, individually and collectively, are consumer credit contracts under Civil Code section 1799.90(a) because they are obligations to pay money on a deferred payment basis, where the subject matter of the contract is primarily for personal, family, or household purposes, and at least two different qualifying conditions apply.
- 52. First, the Credit Bail Agreements are consumer credit contracts within the meaning of Civil Code section 1799.90(a)(4) because they are a "loan[] or extension[] of credit secured by other than real property, or unsecured, for use primarily for personal, family or household purposes."
- 53. Second, the Cosigner Agreements are a consumer credit contract within the meaning of Civil Code section 1799.90(a)(1) because they are a retail installment contract, which is defined under Civil Code section 1802.6 as any contract for a retail installment sale between a "seller" and a "buyer" that provides for payment in more than four installments.
- 54. A retail "seller" is defined under Civil Code section 1802.3 as a person engaged in the business of furnishing "services" to retail buyers. "Services," in turn, are defined in relevant part under Civil Code section 1802.2 as "work, labor and services, for other than a commercial or business use."
- 55. A retail "buyer" is defined under Civil Code section 1802.4 as a person who buys goods or obtains services from a retail seller in a retail installment sale and not principally for the purpose of resale.
- 56. Bad Boys qualifies as a "seller," Ms. Chambers qualifies as a "buyer," and the Unpaid Premium Agreement provides for payments in more than four installments.

- 57. Bad Boys was thus required to provide a Notice of Cosigner to Ms. Caldwell because she is a cosigner within the definition of Civil Code section 1799.91. Bad Boys collected the signatures of more than one person on its consumer credit contracts, and Ms. Caldwell did not in fact receive any of the money, property, or services which were the subject matter of the consumer credit contract. Instead, Ms. Chambers received Bad Boys' services to secure her pretrial release from jail.
- 58. However, at no point, either before or after Ms. Caldwell cosigned the Credit Bail Agreements, did Bad Boys provide a Notice to Cosigner or any remotely comparable document or information.
- 59. On information and belief, Bad Boys does not provide and has never provided a Notice to Cosigner to any cosigners of Bad Boys' Credit Bail Agreements.
- 60. On information and belief, Ms. Caldwell's experience at Bad Boys is consistent with Bad Boys' training, policies, and practices, and, in all respects material to the enforceability of the Credit Bail Agreements, is typical of and common to the experience of all cosigners of Bad Boys' Credit Bail Agreements across California.

VI. Bad Boys violates the regulations governing commercial bail bond companies.

61. In an effort to ensure the transparency and regularity of the commercial bail bond industry, California requires that all commercial bail bond companies provide a list of essential information, in a "numbered document," upon or immediately after the release of any arrestee. This information, reflected in California Code of Regulations, title 10, section 2083, includes the name of the surety insurer; the name and address of the bail licensee; the name of the arrestee; the date of release of the arrestee; the date, time, and place of the arrestee's required appearance; the amount of bail; the offenses with which the arrestee is charged; the premium or charge; an itemization of all actual expenses, supported by vouchers and receipts; the total amount of all charges; the amount received on account; the unpaid balance; and a description of and receipt for any collateral received and a statement of any conditions relating thereto, including a copy of any written agreement executed in connection therewith.

- 62. Ms. Caldwell was never provided with the mandated "numbered document" containing essential bail-related information.
- 63. On information and belief, Bad Boys does not provide cosigners with a compliant "numbered document" containing all essential bail-related information.
- 64. On information and belief, Ms. Caldwell's experience at Bad Boys is consistent with Bad Boys' training, policies, and practices, and, in all respects material to the legally mandated "numbered documents," is typical of and common to the experience of all cosigners of Bad Boys' Credit Bail Agreements across California.
 - VII. Bad Boys immediately begins harassing Ms. Caldwell, her family, and her employer on an unenforceable debt.
- 65. On or about July 2018, within weeks of Ms. Caldwell cosigning the Credit Bail Agreements, Bad Boys began harassing Ms. Caldwell for installment payments. Bad Boys called Ms. Caldwell's personal phone repeatedly, demanding payments to which Ms. Caldwell did not believe she was obligated, on debt that California law makes explicitly unenforceable.
- 66. When Ms. Caldwell began declining Bad Boys' calls, Bad Boys began calling from blocked phone numbers to disguise the identity of the caller. Bad Boys made numerous calls over the course of several months.
- 67. On multiple occasions, Bad Boys representatives made inappropriate and unlawful threats during their phone conversations with Ms. Caldwell. For example, in one instance, a Bad Boys representative threatened Ms. Caldwell with a personal lawsuit if she failed to make the payments demanded, despite the debt being unenforceable and any such suit being forbidden by law. The representative also stated that Ms. Caldwell could lose her job unless she complied with Bad Boys' demands.
- 68. Bad Boys' calls continued regularly through roughly September 2018. The calls were so persistent and noxious that Ms. Caldwell was forced to change her personal phone number.
- 69. Bad Boys also made repeated, harassing phone calls to Ms. Caldwell's mother, whom Ms. Caldwell had listed as a reference during her rushed encounter at Bad Boys' Oakland storefront. Bad Boys never advised Ms. Caldwell that it might contact her references for this purpose, nor did it request permission to do so. Ms. Caldwell would never have consented to such contact had she been informed or asked.

- 70. On information and belief, Bad Boys called Ms. Caldwell's mother daily, or more than daily, despite her requests that it stop doing so. Ms. Caldwell's mother was eventually forced to block Bad Boys' calls to avoid Bad Boys' continued harassment.
- 71. Bad Boys also made repeated phone calls to Ms. Caldwell's employer, requesting to speak with Ms. Caldwell. On some occasions, Bad Boys representatives identified themselves and stated that the reason they were calling was to collect on a bail bond premium. On other occasions, Bad Boys representatives did not identify themselves, but Ms. Caldwell suspected the identity of the caller because she had no reason to receive personal calls at her place of employment.
- 72. In late September or October 2018, Ms. Caldwell received a written statement in the mail from Bad Boys representing that she owed a certain amount of money to Bad Boys. This statement is the only written statement Ms. Caldwell received from Bad Boys, and the only written document Ms. Caldwell received from Bad Boys after her brief encounter at its Oakland storefront.

VIII. Bad Boys files suit for an unenforceable debt.

- 73. Bad Boys filed the underlying Complaint in this action on October 30, 2019, seeking to enforce a debt that California law makes explicitly unenforceable. The underlying Complaint asserts a breach of contract claim and common counts premised on the Credit Bail Agreements.
- 74. Bad Boys was issued a summons on October 30, 2019. However, it failed to serve the summons on Ms. Caldwell, and it failed to make Ms. Caldwell aware of the suit against her. On information and belief, Bad Boys made no attempt to serve the summons for over five months. Since that time, Bad Boys has never properly served Ms. Caldwell.
- 75. On March 16, 2020, Bad Boys filed a proof of service of summons representing that substitute service was attempted at the home of Ms. Caldwell's mother in Hercules.

7	6.	Ms. Caldwell does not live at her mother's home in Hercules; nor did she live at her moth	er's ho	ome in Hercules at the time substitute service was attempted.

- 77. On information and belief, Ms. Caldwell's mother made clear that Ms. Caldwell did not reside at the Hercules residence, and informed the process server that service would not be accepted. On information and belief, the process server ignored Ms. Caldwell's mother; Bad Boys was aware of this error; and Bad Boys has never made any attempt to correct it.
- 78. Bad Boys' attempted service at the Hercules residence was improper and ineffective.
- 79. On May 11, 2020, Bad Boys filed an amended proof of service of summons that again showed service had improperly and ineffectively been attempted at a home in Hercules where Ms. Caldwell did not reside, where Bad Boys was informed that Ms. Caldwell did not reside, and where the resident had informed the process server that service would not be accepted.
- 80. Ms. Caldwell has yet to be properly served with notice of the underlying action against her.
- 81. To date, Ms. Caldwell has paid a total of $500 to Bad Boys, which Bad Boys improperly and unjustly retains.
- 82. To date, Bad Boys has incurred no more than a de minimis cost in providing services to Ms. Caldwell.
- 83. On information and belief, Bad Boys has incurred little to no actual cost in providing services to Ms. Chambers.
- 84. On information and belief, Bad Boys routinely brings civil actions against cosigners across California to collect on unenforceable Credit Bail Agreements, and has done so on numerous occasions since October 30, 2015.
- 85. On information and belief, Bad Boys intends to continue its currents acts and practices, as alleged herein, and will do so unless and until enjoined by the Court.

CLASS-ACTION ALLEGATIONS

86. The preceding paragraphs are incorporated by reference as if fully alleged herein.

- 87. Ms. Caldwell brings this action on her own behalf and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated pursuant to Code of Civil Procedure section 382.
 - 88. Ms. Caldwell requests certification of the following class:

Every cosigner of a Bad Boys bail bond agreement signed on or after October 30, 2015 in California, or for which payment was owed, made, or sought on or after October 30, 2015.

- 89. The members of this Class are so numerous that joinder of all members is impractical. On information and belief, Bad Boys requires cosigners on all of its Credit Bail Agreements, and it subjects all cosigners to the same treatment to which Ms. Caldwell was subject including the lack of a Notice to Cosigner and the lack of a numbered statement.
- 90. On information and belief, Bad Boys has brought dozens of actions attempting to enforce cosigner debt specifically invalidated by California law for lack of a Notice to Cosigner; Bad Boys is continuing to bring numerous such actions; and Bad Boys will continue doing so unless enjoined from doing so.
- 91. Although the exact number of Class Members is not known at this time, the number and identity of Class Members can be readily ascertained from Bad Boys' electronic records and superior court records.
- 92. Although there are numerous Class Members, common issues of law and fact are so numerous and substantial that resolving these issues collectively would yield considerable benefits for the litigants, the Class, the public, and the Court. The common questions include but are not limited to the following:
 - a. Whether each and all of the Credit Bail Agreements are consumer credit contracts;
 - Whether Bad Boys provides a Notice to Cosigner consistent with Civil Code sections 1799.90 to 1799.104;
 - Whether Bad Boys provides a numbered list consistent with California
 Code of Regulations, title 10, section 2083;

Prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would b.

- 102. Bad Boys' acts and practices as alleged herein are further unlawful because they violate California Code of Regulations, title 10, section 2083. Bad Boys does not provide Class Members with the legally required numbered statement.
 - 103. Bad Boys' acts and practices as alleged herein are unfair because:
 - a. They are immoral, unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous, substantially injurious to California consumers, and offend California public policy; and
 - b. Bad Boys' acts and practices impose grave harm on California consumers and have no countervailing public or private utility.
 - 104. Bad Boys' acts and practices as alleged herein are also unfair because:
 - a. They impose substantial injury on consumers;
 - b. They have no countervailing benefits to consumers, but simply enable Bad Boys to deceive and mislead consumers into agreeing to obligations they otherwise wouldn't undertake, or would undertake only on fair terms;
 - c. They have no countervailing benefits to competition, but actively harm competition by according Bad Boys an unfair advantage over competitors that are in compliance with California consumer law; and
 - d. The injury Bad Boys imposes on consumers is not one the consumers could reasonably have avoided in light of Bad Boys' active and extensive violations of California law.
- 105. Bad Boys' acts and practices as alleged herein are also unfair because they significantly threaten and harm competition as described above.
- 106. As a result of Bad Boys' acts and practices, Ms. Caldwell executed purported Credit Bail Agreements she would not otherwise have executed; and Ms. Caldwell made payments on purported Credit Bail Agreements that she would not otherwise have made, that she was not obligated to make, to which Bad Boys has no entitlement, and that Bad Boys improperly retains. Ms. Caldwell suffered injury-in-fact and lost money, and thus has standing to bring this claim.

107. As a result of Bad Boys' acts and practices, Class Members executed purported Credit Bail Agreements they would not otherwise have executed; and Class Members made payments on purported Credit Bail Agreements that they would not otherwise have made, that they were not obligated to make, to which Bad Boys has no entitlement, and that Bad Boys improperly retains.

108. Absent preliminary and permanent injunctive relief, Class Members will continue to suffer significant injury, Class Members will be at risk of significant future injury, and the general public will be at risk of significant future injury. This action is in the public interest and will confer a benefit on the public by enjoining the unlawful and unfair acts and practices of Bad Boys, which have a substantial negative impact on consumers and competition.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION (Declaratory judgment)

Against all Cross-Defendants

- 110. The preceding paragraphs are incorporated by reference as if fully alleged herein.
- 111. An actual, present controversy exists between Bad Boys and Class Members concerning their respective rights and duties in connection with the Credit Bail Agreements, and concerning the legal consequences resulting from the facts alleged herein, including:
 - a. Whether each and all of Class Members' Credit Bail Agreements are consumer credit contracts pursuant to 1799.90(a)(4);
 - b. Whether each and all of Class Members' Credit Bail Agreements are consumer credit contracts pursuant to 1799.90(a)(1);
 - c. Whether each and all of Class Members' Credit Bail Agreements are unenforceable;
 - d. Whether Bad Boys has violated the applicable provisions of Civil Code sections 1799.90 to 1799.104 with respect to each and all of Class Members' Credit Bail Agreements;
